

The Preschool Peckalach

MESSAGE FROM MRS. LEVIT:

The best way to learn is by doing! Our preschoolers practice their brochos every day! From brochos they learn many lessons. Firstly and most importantly, that everything we have is from Hashem and we take time to stop and thank Hashem for the wonderful food He has provided us with. What other lessons do small children learn from brochos? You name it! Sorting (different foods, different brochos), sequencing (the order of reciting brochos) and patience, to name a few. Our preschoolers are all currently engaged in a brochos unit of learning now that will culminate by Tu B'shvat. Each week a different brocha is highlighted and the children have a chance to learn and experience where different foods come from. Because our little ones have been making brochos since the start of the school year, this learning is a natural extension to what they are already doing!
